Yummy in my Tummy!

When you are a new parent introducing solids for the first time, it can be a bit challenging and frustrating experience. That is exactly what happened to me, I had no clue in where or how to begin. I did a lot of research, bought books, but I still had a lot of questions. That was until a good friend of mine told me about Yummy in my Tummy.

Yummy in my Tummy is an all certified organic baby and finger foods store with a variety of the best first foods, fruits and vegetable purees. They have stages 1, 2 and 3 in introducing different flavors and textures in your baby's diet. The owners Karen and Michael Stanley are dedicated to provide safe ingredients to prepare meals that are nutritionally balanced, satisfying, and delicious for your baby. Their meals are always fresh and never frozen; the packaging is BPA-free, phthalate-free, BHT-free, and BHA-free barrier containers. In addition, to selling baby food and finger foods the store has a variety of eco-friendly and toxic – free product, such as, teething toys, and clothing. Shipping is also available for those of you that can't make it to the store.

When it was time for me to introduce my ladybug to her first foods, I had no doubt that Yummy in my Tummy was the right place for me. We went to the store and the staff was friendly and very helpful, {as always} I decided to start first with the sweet potatoes and they were a hit with Isabella and me. I had decided to try them too for “research” purposes :-). We have tried several meals and she loves them all. Her favorites are... Sweet potatoes, butternut squash, carrots, pears, beets & carrots, broccoli & pears (I also mix this with carrots too), pears & prunes, spinach with sweet potatoes and squash, and her new favorite is sweet potatoes and white beans. Isabella is an official YIMT enthusiast!
